Paula writes...

How are you going with your spiritual check-up? Last week, from Ephesians 4, we looked at how we are doing in three areas:

1. Character: How are we living (humility, gentleness, patience and putting up with others faults!)
2. Unity: How are we getting on with others (within our church family and with others outside ourselves)
3. Gifts: How are we serving (knowing and using our God-given gifts)

Jim is continuing the second half of Ephesians 4 this week: with more challenges around how we should live in response to the amazing gift and life we have in Christ. And in particular what we need to 'take off' and what we need to 'put on'.

Thank you to those who were able to attend the Combined Churches event with Alfred Ngaro last Sunday evening. It was a great opportunity to worship with other believers from around our city, but also a very challenging evening as we looked at the proposed referendums and law changes facing our nation. Both the Cannabis and Euthanasia referendums which will occur at the soon coming elections, could have disastrous consequences, especially for the vulnerable in our nation. We will take some time to look at these two issues in the coming months, but in the meantime I encourage you to become informed. A good place to start is the Family First website which has many good articles and resources.

This week we would love you to join us on Thursday morning for morning tea in the Blue Room if you are free during the day. And then all women are invited to an Afternoon Tea with Aimee Mai next Sunday at Peppers. Cost is $15 (non-refundable) and includes afternoon tea. You need to get tickets by this Sunday.

It's wonderful to be back worshipping together. May we also be growing in God each day and be making a difference as Jesus' followers in the relationships and settings we find ourselves in.

Blessings, Paula

There is nothing the nearness of Jesus cannot overcome.
